

Eric G. Ransleben

Eric G. Ransleben is committed to excellence in the Texas public school system for all school-age children. The Law Offices of Eric G. Ransleben represents children in all public school placements. Mr. Ransleben's areas of practice include special education (IDEA), 504 programs, regular and special education discipline hearings and appeals, expulsion proceedings and JJAEP placements. He maintains an active juvenile law practice, which offers a holistic approach when conduct involves both student code of conduct and juvenile justice code violations. Mr. Ransleben represents students at all stages of the process – from the initial referral to special education or 504, to due process hearings and appeals to Federal Court. The practice is limited to the state of Texas.
